The Daily Oregonian.

TUESDAY MORNING JULY 2, 1867

A Cackle Followed by a Rattle.

The Democracy of this coast have enjoyed a brief cackle of delight over the dissatisfaction which the Union Bulletin, Alta and other Union journals of California expressed about the nomination of Gorham for Governor The cackle is be coming sensibly less expressive of delight It be gins to sound dolorous It is weaker, it is be coming simply a rattle in the Democratic throat Since the Democratic State Convention placed the party and its candidates squarely on a platform opposed to the National policy of reconstruction, endorsed by the great North and accepted by the South, the Alta, the Bulletin and the other ex pected allies of Democracy in the opening cam paign, have begun to speak less encouragingly of Democratic prospects The dose of the genuine virus of copperheadism which the Democratic platform contains, proved too much for the stomachs of such men as had stood by the Union in the past, and still wish to do so. Though the nominee for Governor—Haight—is as unobjectionable, personally, as any Democrat could well be, Union men, even in passion, find it impossible to accept him along with the principles to which he and his party have re-announced their adhe sion The Alta says

> The platform sets the seal of the condemnation of the Democratic party of California upon the so-called radical policy of Congress which has been too frequently approved by the people of this State to need defence or dread attack. On this platform, which is mild or tame enough, the nominee can scarce hope for success, if the Union voters of California have not greatly changed their minds since they last had an opportunity of giving their honest sentiments at the ballot-box. It is true there has been no general election since the reconstruction question has been settled by Congress, but California has endorsed the action of Congress in the premises in unmistakable expressions of popular will To the principles involved in that policy we believe California re mains true

The remainder of the ticket, with the exception of Thomas H Selby is made up of the usual number of available old stagers of the Democratic party men who, if they have not been candidates for office, have always been regular attendants upon conventions and stand well upon the Democratic books. Good, bad, or indifferent, they all stand or fall by the platform upon which they have been placed by the convention, and that platform we believe will be overwhelmingly rejected by the people.

The Bulletin gives a pen photograph of the Democratic nominees and expresses the belief that the Union ticket will be elected. It says the obscurity and want of experience and ability of the greater part of the Democratic nominees, will "tell against the ticket as the campaign progresses, and cause the majority of the Union nominations to be even more popular than they are already" The Union's later utterances render it quite probable that it will "accept the situation" and go in against that party which chooses to array itself in opposition to the only scheme of reconstruction now possible. Whether it does so or not, it is very evident that its disaffection cannot defeat the Union ticket or do it any serious harm, since the Democrats themselves have made it impossible for Union men to vote with them Verily, the sweet morsels which Democrats have so lately chewed with such infinite gusto, are already turning to ashes

Specimen Democracy.

Brick Pomeroy who, by free expressions of his undisguised hate of everything and everybody that contributed to the saving of the nation from the Democratic rule of Jeff Davis and his Democratic guerrillas, has achieved the bad eminence of leadership among Democratic editors, says in a late number of the La Crosse Democrat.

> The oldest not the least doubt but the present national questions labor-strangling results of Re- sultan and incompetency, will be re- judicated in less than four years, as it should be.

A little further on in the same article, he says

> If the South is a conquered nation, it is the law of nations that the conqueror must pay all debts owed by the conquered and this must be done sooner or later in this instance

These two propositions constitute, beyond disavowal, doctrines which suit the Democratic party of the United States much better than do the propositions reversed It was by the persistent promulgation of such doctrines that Pomeroy came to be considered and called a "brick" of a Demo c n D a n Democratic parlance, the s of perfection The Demo- a r g n not altogether uncom- l h r s a proposition to repudi- a l people will doubtless re- k Kelly, the last Democratic and l a r declared with a horrid a g n t year, in favor of repu- g h N n ds unless Congress would ur tax hem Means, the last Democratic l State Printer, said in his p must not be received his nomination from a Democratic State Convention

We suggest to President Johnson that if the people every s r of the Government, they will extin guish the corrupt public debt in less than thirty days, without any tax

Improved Mail Facilities.

In another place in this morning's paper will be found a "Notice to postmasters in Oregon, Washington and Idaho," issued by Postal Agent, Q. A. Brooks, by which it will be seen that hereafter our mail matter to and from the Eastern States, will pass directly between Portland and Salt Lake City, instead of by way of Sacramento city This change of route was effected by Mr. Brooks during his late visit to Washington. It will prove a very valuable increase of mail facilities for all parts of this State included in the arrangement, and especially so to the northern and eastern offices and to Washington and Idaho Territories From Salt Lake City to Portland, the time will be shortened not less than six days, as matter started from Salt Lake which will reach Portland in just about the same time as required to carry it to Sacramento Thus, the time consumed in transportation between Sacramento and Portland, whatever it may be, will be saved, and hereafter Oregon will be as near St Joseph as is California. We have no doubt that Mr. Brooks will thank Mr. Brooks for this and other changes for the better, in the mail facilities of the North Pacific Coast. Postmasters should carefully observe the directions contained in Mr Brooks' circular.

It is probable, remembering the history of the Democratic party, made while the nation was struggling against it, for its existence, that this declaration of O'Meara's procured him his nomination and the subsequent votes at the polls of all faithful Democrats. Jas D. Fay, the last Democratic candidate for Congress, said

> I will never by act or vote, give aid to any person who has in any way contributed to the support of this war

And yet, Fay was nominated and voted for, by the Democratic party of Oregon, only last year. No one of those Democrats then or since, retracted, no Democrat then or since, repudiated them, no Democrat failed then to vote for and endorse them; and no Democrat doubts now that Brick Pomeroy is the great representative man of modern Democracy Rewards to traitors and punishments to the defenders and helpers of the Union, are cardinal points in the Democratic creed

THE YAKIMA COUNTRY.—Mr Joseph Bowser, an old resident of the Yakima valley, informs the Mountaineer that "the crops in his section never looked better, especially corn, which will compare favorably with that of any country The discovery of mines in his neighborhood, which are now being prospected, he thinks will assist in developing and opening up the country There is no doubt but that there are gold mines in the Yakima country, but whether they are extensive remains to be seen"

A NEUTER GENDER DEMOCRAT.—Two men were discussing politics the other day Says one to the other "I was born in the Middle States—in Missouri I ain't a Northern man nor a Southern man—I ain't opposed to either on" It is needless to say that he is a Democrat—one of that particular sort which Orpheus C Kerr described by the general name of "the Kentucky conservative chap"

The following appointments have just been made by the Governor Hugh N George, Notary Public Buena Vista Polk county; Wm H Stevens Notary Public Portland, Multnomah county; Theodore F Miller Commissioner of Deeds Albany N Y

Wm H Minser (not Metzger) says the Record, was indicted by the Grand Jury last Friday for the burning of Buhler's stable He belonged to the Oregon Infantry, was enlisted at Umatilla in Capt Ingram's company under the name of Henry Minser in 1865 He had served a previous term of five years in the regular army

The Sentinel requests the papers to publish an inquiry for the whereabouts of Harvey B Oatman, formerly of Jackson county It says "He was last heard from at Walla Walla, June 1st, 1866, and was then en route to Helena, Montana Any information of his whereabouts if living, or the circumstances of his death if dead will be thankfully received by his brother, Harrison B Oatman, at Jacksonville Oregon"

We learn from the Salem Record that a little boy of about eight or ten years of age son of Mrs Tidwell, lately deceased, and grandson of James M Townsend Esq, while playing Saturday afternoon on the bank of the river, near the foot of State street, where the bank was abrupt fell in and was drowned His body was recovered after some time had elapsed but all attempts at resuscitation proved of no avail We learn, later, that he had been fishing on the bank and fell off into deep water and got fastened among the roots and stumps Mr McDonald dived after him several times but could not bring him up His body was hooked up some half hour after the fatal accident

A petition with over six hundred names attached, for the continuance of the daily mail from Lincoln to Portland, was forwarded by Postmaster Sutton of Jacksonville, to the Postmaster General on the 20th ult

About four years since, says the Sentinel, Mr. Edwin C Smith of this town was on his way to Fort Klamath, and while camping out and sleeping on the ground an insect of some kind got in his right ear and caused him the most intense pain but which he relieved in a few moments by pouring water and melted lard into the organ Mr Smith has ever since experienced a curious sensation in that ear—as if it contained a drop of water—but repeated examinations failed to show any cause for it. On Sunday morning last he felt an unusual irritation in his ear, and with the assistance of a friend, finally extracted therefrom a small bootle commonly called a "snapping bug," nearly half an inch in length and giving evidence of having been dead a long time He now enjoys perfect relief from the unpleasant tenant.

Astoria

ASTORIA, June 28, 1867.

Astoria, so widely known in romance and history, is the oldest town in the State, and, occupying the best site for a city and harbor, so near the mouth of one of the greatest rivers in America, ought to be a place of much greater importance than it is But peculiar circumstances have kept her back The first commerce of the young Territory from sea, was done with the Willamette Valley, where the principal settlements were, and as there were no steamers on the Columbia to receive freight, at the mouth of the river, vessels were compelled to carry their cargoes as nearly to the consumers as possible. This gave Portland the "start," and she soon acquired a wealth and influence that gave her power to control the commercial affairs of the State, notwithstanding it is generally conceded that Astoria is the proper point for the commercial depot.

This great mistake, made by the people of Oregon in building their seaport city at so inaccessible and remote a point from the sea, has given the navigation of the best part of the Columbia river to capital and ships owned out of the State, and has clearly cost the United States Government $45,000, and the city of Portland about half that amount in trying to deepen the Willamette river enough to admit ships of medium size. And, as the State grows, and commerce increases, this mistake, will still longer with increased costs, and greater inconveniences

Astoria has perhaps forever lost the splendid opportunity for greatness that her natural advantages gave her, yet she is now quite as thrifty as any of the small towns in the State I have been sofrequently asked by strangers, "How do the people of Astoria make a living?" that I will take this occasion to answer the question.

There is more farming and grazing land in the county, than is generally supposed, which does its part towards supporting the town. The salmon fisheries yield annually from $12,000 to $15,000, and that business is constantly increasing.

The Bar and River Pilotage brings into the town about $17,000 a year. The U. S. Government disburses through the Custom House to employees, light-keepers, &c, $10,000, and to the Revenue Cutter $40,000 a year. She also pays $1,000 to the Tidal observer, and about $7,000 per annum through the office of the Superintendent of Light Houses of this District. About $5,000 is expended by the Postoffice Department to mail contractors, &c, and not less than $75,000 a year is paid out at the military posts of Fort Stevens and Cape Disappointment—all within fifteen miles of Astoria.

Every steamer or sail vessel that comes in or goes out of the river, leaves more or less money here, which amounts to a large sum during the year.

She also derives an income from the lumber trade, and the oyster trade of Shuniwaier Bay contributes something to her support. Some of her citizens own ships, and by them she stretches her arms across the ocean, and brings home treasures from other lands.

There is, doubtless, more money put into circulation here than at any other point of equal population on the coast. When these facts are known, people need not wonder how Astorians live. They not only live, but they are "good livers," and as the little town supports a Brewery and five whisky and beer shops, it may very reasonably be supposed that they are good drinkers also.

After an absence of six months, I can observe that many improvements have been made, and a number of good buildings are now being erected, besides the splendid work the town is doing upon her streets. P. W. G

BOY DROWNED.—ANOTHER AWFUL WARNING TO PARENTS.—Yesterday about 4 P M, a little son of Mr Landenberger, one of the proprietors of the Pioneer newspaper, publishe in this city, aged 11 years, was drowned The sad occurrence took place within a few feet of the new mill erected by Messrs Carter & Hayden, on the river near Front street, and above the bridge The boy, Hugo, was astride a log, and is supposed to have either fallen off, or the log turned with him. The last seen of him was by the boy's mother whose residence is nearly in sight of the spot where the boy was drowned—and in a playful way called the big his ship, and bade his mother "good-bye" as if he were going off on a voyage The mother saw of him on the log and heard his words, but not thinking of any danger, turned and went into the house. Soon, however, becoming uneasy and perhaps thinking of what her son had said, sent her little girl to see if he was all right She went, but could not see her brother, only his hat floating on the water She so reported to her mother, and frantic with fear, the mother rushed to the spot, crying and bewailing the too soon to be realized expectation that her boy was drowned When she discovered the reality, she would have rushed into the water where her child lay in the arms of death, but her weeping roused a sleeping Indian near by, who prevented her and himself went in to search for the body He made several attempts, but without avail. At length John Simmons, another Indian, came on the ground immediately went in after the boy, and succeeded in recovering him from his watery bed He had late too long after life struggled with water to be resuscitated,—and so another spirit had passed to Him who gave it This is a sad warning to parents. What they profit by it Have long will it be ere we have to record a similar case? Would that the negligence of some parents were turned to care in the same degree that the former exists then there in Portland, many young and promising children might live to honor their parents, society, and the parents whose care preserved to them the life given by a generous Creator.

"NOTICE TO POSTMASTERS"—The following is the notice referred to in another column, as emanating from Quincy A. Brooks, Esq., U S. Postal Agent, to which it would be well for postmasters to pay particular attention:

Notice to Postmasters in Oregon, Washington and Idaho—The primary object of the Postoffice Department in the establishment of a Distributing Postoffice at Great Salt Lake City, and placing a daily mail service between that city and the Dalles, was to afford more rapid mail communication between the Atlantic States and the State of Oregon, and the Territories of Washington and Idaho. And in order that Oregon and adjacent Territories may reap the benefits of these new arrangements, mail matter for the East, as well as from the East, should pass over the route via Boise City.

Packets of letters for the East, therefore, should be addressed "Salt Lake City, D F O, instead of "Sacramento, D. P. O" or "St Joseph, Mo, D. P O, as heretofore. And all such packets made up at Postoffices east of the Cascade mountains should be forwarded in pouches tagged "Portland," whilst those made up at offices west of the Cascades should be forwarded in pouches tagged "Boise City."

The above arrangements are not intended to apply to Postoffices in the counties of Jackson and Josephine, in Oregon, which offices will receive and forward their mail as heretofore, via via Sacramento.

It should also be borne in mind that all letters for the East go overland, unless otherwise ordered If parties prefer that their letters do not go overland, they should in order to make sure, write "Steamer."

All mail is also called to the importance of wrapping all letters in paper of proper strength, tying them securely with twine, and addressing them plainly, as required by the Regulations.

U. S. vs. C. C. Stiles—set for trial Friday morning.

J. Nathan vs. Steamship Ajax—continued until the 10th inst.

The several persons held to appear at this term on charge of smuggling, answered in accordance with their bailing of bail.

B. Vick Sargent—4 witness held to appear at this term, same not, but made default.

U. S. vs. A. Bleier—action to recover penalty—Gibbs and Breidenfrich for def't. Motion by defendant to plaint from files. Argued and submitted.

U. S. vs. G. Mitchel—same motion and submitted as above.

U. S. vs. H. W. Wegner—same motion and submitted as above.

Adjourned till 10 o'clock to-day.

RECORDER'S COURT.—In this court yesterday morning several cases were disposed of. Joseph Thompson, for an assault on the person of G Mitchel, was fined five dollars and cost. His plea was guilty, though he told the reporter that he had many witnesses, he could have exonerated himself and mulcted the complainant

Gdego Boschy was arrested and pleaded guilty to a charge of assault on a little girl. His attorney held that he had been technically guilty of an assault, by rushing after the little girl and taking a cane away from her. The court of the little girl (eight years old) was that base liberties had been taken with her person. The Court acting for granted that the statement was true, fined the prisoner fifty dollars and cost, being the full extent of the law, and not being able to pay so heavy a fine, went to jail.

In the case of the State vs. Ripley, a charge of assault on Charles Smith with a dangerous weapon, to wit, a rake, with the poll of which he hit Mr. Smith a severe whack on the "poll" Mr. Ripley for indulging his propensity for chopping men instead of timber, was held in proper bonds to secure his attendance at the coming term of the Circuit Court.

ATTEMPTED SUICIDE.—Eli Morril, living on or near the Columbia Slough, attempted on Sunday to end his earthly career suddenly by shooting himself with a navy revol

He did not succeed, although he made a dangerous wound, and may, if secondary inflamation should occur, end fatally. The ball entered just above the left nipple, ranging back toward the arm pit, coming out at the side or back of the arm. Dr. Chapman probed the wound and found obstructions, and then probed from the other end of the wound about four inches. After having failed to accomplish the object he sought, he loudly called for the pistol that he might complete his self-destruction. Domestic difficulty was the cause of his monomania, his wife having left him three times. She must have been an admirable woman, or he a darned fool.

ACCIDENT.—Yesterday forenoon Messrs. Estes & Stimpson were passing along First street in a light buggy, and meeting the sprinkling apparatus turned to pass; just at that moment the operator of the sprinkler let off the water, the horse sheared to the left, and in doing so the buggy came in contact with the sign post of Mr. Bartlett, druggist, and capsized it, throwing the occupants out upon the roadway Mr. Estes fell upon his head, bursting him more than he is willing to confess. Mr. Stimpson strained his wrist badly The buggy was not as badly broken as might be expected; horse not hurt.

BUCKING HORSE.—Yesterday, just after the accident to Messrs Estes and Stimpson, (there being quite a crowd collected on the spot) a gentleman rode up on horseback, and the horse not liking the appearance of things, commenced bucking. Eventually the rider was displaced, and fortunately or otherwise, seated himself upon the Nicholson pavement, but there being considerable spring to him he bounced like a ball and while in the air, straightened himself out and exhibiting great agility, struck square upon his feet. Nobody hurt.

PORTRAIT AND LANDSCAPE PAINTING.—Mrs. S J. Rumsey has a studio adjoing Buchtel's Gallery, where she can be found from 10 A. M. to 5 P. M. From what we can learn of the proficiency of this lady in her profession, we have no hesitancy in recommending her as entirely competent to perform to satisfaction, all engagements made by her. We ask for her the consideration of those who desire the performance of artistic painting in any of its branches. Please see her card.

ATHENIAN CLUB.—The President of the Wide Awake Base Ball Club requests us to say to the members that punctuality is absolutely essential when called upon to practice. Be on the ground at the minute announced in the call, and others will not have lost time (nor patience) in being as all should be—punctual. The Club meets this evening for practice at half past five o'clock. A regular meeting will be held at eight o'clock at the rooms of the Club.

AT ASTORIA.—Last week at Astoria, a teamster named "Charley" tied his horses lines to the hub of his wagon. A person not observing the "situation," backed the team a little—consequently the team backed more as the lines were drawn—and kept backing until the horses and wagon went over the wharf Results—one horse killed and the other badly hurt, and wagon all smashed up. Moral—Do not tie the lines around a hub

LADIES OF THE RELIEF SOCIETY.—The following note was left on our table, penned with a lady's hand, with the polite request that we publish the same—which we most cheerfully do:

"The Ladies of the Relief Society will meet in the basement of the Presbyterian Church, to-day (Tuesday), at two o'clock."

"HONOR'S."—At the last regular meeting of this Society, it was ordered that all heads of departments and floor managers must report the mode of conveyance to be used by them in the procession on the Fourth, to the President or Secretary this (Tuesday) evening, at 8 o'clock, at the Club-room, No 76 Front street, that the programme may be completed and published.

ACCIDENT OF SUNDAY.—We mentioned yesterday morning the accident occurring to two young men on Sunday We treated the occurrence as though the young men were not hurt, but we learn that they were somewhat injured. Mr Molbert received a concussion of the brain, but is doing well. Mr. Well, however, is on the street and not much injured

BUCKEYE BALL.—In their notice this morning we failed to make the application of the item to this firm It really was not necessary, for everybody knows Harman's "Buckeye," as soon as read, they contain so much solid truth.

ARRESTS.—Yesterday afternoon an Indian named "Albert was arrested for larceny, in this to-wit—did (as charged) take steal and carry away, etc, clothing, the property of another. A lady was also arrested on a charge of obtained goods under false pretences Three charges will be investigated in the Recorder's Court this morning

GOOD TEMPLAR'S RESORT.—This popular ice-cream saloon has changed proprietors—Mr Nixon having disposed of his interest to Jas S Kidder Messrs Schramm & Kidder will keep up the reputation of the place by polite attendance upon customers and by keeping all the favorite delicacies of the season Give them a call.

FESTIVAL TO-NIGHT.—The ladies of the M E. Church hold their Festival this evening in Mosmaier's building The very laudable purpose for which this feast is being gotten up should ensure a large attendance Only 25cts to get in and a very reasonable sum (being no larger than you wish to make it) to get out REDUCTION ON TELEGRAMS.—On and after the 15th of July there will be a reduction in the prices of eastern and local telegrams to the amount of the Federal tax, which is 5 per cent. On all eastern dispatches there is by law a stamp required, the expense of which will also be borne by the company.

A MESSAGE.—At the request of that gallant operator, we take pleasure in advising Mr. John C Work, that there is now, unless it has been taken away, a telegraphic message in the telegraph office, in this city, for him, which he can have by calling for the same—and no questions asked.

INQUEST.—An inquest was held by the Coroner over the body of Hugo Landenberger, who was drowned yesterday The jurors were Robert Patton, T. J Carter, Henry Hill, R. Pegg, John Lake and Tobias Thomas. The verdict of the jury was "accidental drowning."

TWO BABES.—Charley Wiggin had presented to him on Sunday last by his wife, a pair of twins,—son and daughter. All concerned in the event are doing well, and the father is exceedingly happy

PRODUCE.—The Senator yesterday brought down the following cargo of freight: 20 cases lard, 11 rolls leather 20 gunnies bacon, 307 sacks wheat, 810 sack flour, 11 bales woolen goods

COAL.—By the Sun. Merrill, Messrs J Underhill & Co received 20 casks of Cumberland coal for use in forges, &c., &c.

Military Observance of the Fourth of July.

Maj. Gen. Steele, at a late hour last night favored us with the following copy of a telegram from Washington, regarding the observance of the coming holiday (by the military)—the Fourth of July. Also, a copy of a general order emanating from him, the commander of the District of Columbia. The following is the order of General Grant:

WAR DEPARTMENT, WASHINGTON, June 29, 1867.

To Brevet Major-General F. Steele, Commanding the Department of the Columbia:

HEADQUARTERS OF THE ARMY, ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE, WASHINGTON, June 29, 1867.

[GENERAL ORDERS—SUMMER SIXTY-SIX.]

In addition to the salute prescribed by paragraph two hundred and seventy (270) of "Revised Regulations," Department Commanders are hereby directed to give such orders for an appropriate observance, by the troops, of the Anniversary of the Independence of the United States, as the state of the service within their respective commands may render appropriate.

By command of

MAJOR-GENERAL GRANT.

E. A. TOWNSEND, A. A General.
R. WILSON, A. A. General.

HEADQUARTERS DEPARTMENT OF THE COLUMBIA, PORTLAND, July 1, 1867.

Pursuant to General Order No. 60, from Head Quarters of the army, dated June 29th, 1867, it is hereby ordered that in addition to the salute prescribed by paragraph 270, Revised Regulations, the commander of each Military Post within this Department shall cause a suspension of all drills and fatigue duty, and shall have the troops paraded at Meridian on the coming Fourth of July. After the firing of the salute, he shall cause the Declaration of Independence to be read to the troops, and shall prescribe such other ceremonies commemorative of this great event as he may deem appropriate under the circumstances. By order of F. STEELE,

Brevet-Major General.

R. B. STRONG, A. A. A. General.

A STRINGED INSTRUMENT.—We saw, yesterday, at J L. Parrish & Co's something new in the way of an organ—a French instrument called the Organ Harmonium—invented by Alphonse Rodolphe. It is a very considerable modification of the organ as we have them from the American manufactories. It is provided with sixteen stops, each of which exercises a distinct and peculiar effect upon the tone. The bass stops are the Forte, Jeu Doux, (soft, sweet) Basson, Clarion, Bourdon, English Horn; the treble stops are Expression, Tremolo, Scotch Bagpipe, Flute, Clarionette, Vife, Hautbois, Voix Celeste, Forte, and Knee or Full Expression. The effect of these stops in changing the tone is most surprising For instance, from the flute to Voix Celeste with Full Expression, the tone changes from what sounds precisely like a soft flute, to the full grand harmony which we would expect from an Angel choir—what the name implies The Key-Board is movable and can be adjusted to any key to any instrument, or to the voice of any singer. Other changes are no less surprising. The instruments are of the most perfect workmanship and of the highest finish, have taken the first medals at all the great European Expositions. The prices range from $175, to $600. Persons in want of an instrument should call and see them, for it is impossible to get a correct idea of them, except from personal inspection. J. L. Parrish & Co, are sole agents for the Pacific coast.

Attorney General Stanberry's Opinion on the Reconstruction Act.

WASHINGTON, May 20.—Attorney General Stanberry's opinion on the clause of the Reconstruction Act in relation to voting and holding office is made public. The opinion as to the powers of Commanding Generals will be given hereafter. As to the original Act he says the qualifications of a voter are, by the fifth section, limited to the election of delegates by a Convention, and to the question of whether such Convention shall or shall not be held, and that no qualifications as to voters are required in all elections to any office under existing Provisional Governments during their continuance, and as to eligibility, certain classes are excluded. As to the supplemental Act, he says:

The question of qualification and disqualification is fixed by registration. No power is given to any other Board or any other authority, after registration is completed, to change registry. The persons whose names are admitted to registry are entitled to vote, subject to limitation hereinafter mentioned, and no other. This registration must be completed before the 1st of September, 1867. The functions of the Board of Registration cannot be extended beyond that fixed time, but after that time duties that remain to be performed by officers composing this Board are limited to holding and superintending elections and making proper returns to the Commanding Generals. This brings us to the direct question who is entitled to registration.

First—As to citizenship and residence, no person is entitled to vote who shall not be a resident in the State for one year previous to the election. It is not necessary that this previous residence for a year should expire at the time the person applies for registration. A person who is in all other respects entitled to vote, is entitled to registration, though he has not at the time been a resident of the State for a full year, for we find in the supplemental Act that the oath does not require the applicant to swear that he has then been a resident for a year, but only requires him to state the number of months of his residence, contemplating a period of less than six as well as a full term of twelve months therefor. As to such persons so registered, if it happens at any election subsequently to be held that the time of his residence, counting from the day of election, does not cover an entire year, he cannot vote at such election, for this supplemental Act does not, as to residence, change the provision of the original Act, as it is explicitly provided for by it, as to registration, that it shall include only those qualified to vote by the original Act. To carry out the law in this respect as to residence, the Board of Registration should set opposite the name of every person whose residence has not extended to the full term, the exact time of his residence. By the first clause of the first section in the supplement Act, the registration is to be made of male citizens of the United States, and as to the oath, the applicant is only required to swear that he is a citizen of the State. I am of the opinion that the phrase "citizen of the State," as used in the oath, is intended to include only such persons as are citizens of the United States, and that, an alien who has not yet been made a citizen of the United States cannot safely take the oath, but as Boards of Registration have only authority to administer a prescribed oath, they cannot require any further oath as to citizenship; and if an alien was not made a citizen of the United States and take the oath, he takes it at his peril, and is subjected to prosecution for perjury.

Second—As to age, no one is entitled to registration who is not at least twenty-one years of of age when he applies for registration; in this respect, qualification as to age differs from qualification as to residence, and the fact of his majority must exist at the date of registration, or the day of the subsequent election.

Third—As to disfranchisement, the 5th section of the original Act denies the right to vote to such as may be disfranchised for participation in the rebellion or of felony. At common law the words here used, "in the rebellion," must be taken to mean the recent rebellion, but the supplemental Act on the disqualification, and requires the applicant to swear that he has not been disfranchised for participation in any rebellion or civil war against the United States, and not for felony committed against the laws of any State or of the United States. The mere fact of such participation or commission must be ascertained by the sentence of a Court or legislative Act. I am not aware of any laws of the United States which disfranchise a State or any class of persons as to the right of suffrage by the State itself, nor does such a consequence follow from a conviction of treason or any other crime against the United States. The provisions of the Constitution of the United States does not declare what shall be the punishment on conviction of treason. That is left to Congress, with the limitation that corruption of blood shall not follow as a consequence of any forfeiture, existing during the life of the party. Congress, in the exercise of its power, has limited such punishment on conviction to the penalty of death or imprisonment, and by the manumission of the owner by the party, and to disqualification from holding any office under the United States. [illegible] of any statute now in force [illegible] the United States except, perhaps, [illegible] Virginia, which does disfranchise persons for the suffrage by force of the Act itself. The general Act contemplates disfranchisement [illegible] participation in a rebellion, whereas [illegible] under the fourth and fifth clauses. The supreme Federal bill does not stand from such [illegible], but other [illegible] concur, [illegible] holding of certain offices, or taking an oath by certain officers and afterwards [illegible] against the United States. [illegible] is no doubt [illegible] a State Legislature and Congress are sufficiently designated. A State Convention [illegible] to the Constitution, [illegible] such legislative power, cannot [illegible] a State Legislature, and in the [illegible] a Convention and a Legislature are expressly distinguished from each other, for they require a Constitution to be framed by a Convention, and require the Legislature of the same State to adopt the constitutional amendment, when then in the same Acts they again use the phrase "Legislature of the State," they must be understood to use it in the same sense, and distinguished from a Constitutional Convention. But as to those Legislatures which passed what are called ordinances of secession, I am of opinion that their members are properly comprehended within this disqualifying clause, for I can imagine no official legislative position in which the duty of allegiance was more distinctly violated. A more difficult question is, who is to consider, an officer of the United States, or the executive or judicial officer of any State?

Various classes of officers are intended as State officers and Federal officers, and executive or judicial officers. No legislative officer is mentioned except a member of the State Legislature or a member of Congress. The description used as to other officers are as to State officers. They must be judicial or executive, and as to a Federal officer, the terms executive or judicial are not expressed. He is described simply as an officer of the United States.

The officers of the militia of a State are not included in these terms of description, or else the Act would have included civil or military officers of the State, for in the third section of the constitutional amendment known as Article 14, Congress expresses that purpose very clearly, and that section is expressly referred to more than once, its language is followed word for word in these qualifying clauses as far as possible, except in the particular in which one is made to apply to eligibility, and the other made to apply to the right to vote.

When, therefore, we find Congress, in declaring what persons shall be disfranchised from holding any office, expressly includes military as well as civil officers, as in the third section referred to, and, in providing what persons shall be disfranchised from voting who held any office, omits to mention military officers, we cannot escape the conclusion that military officers were not within their contemplation.

It must be borne in mind that we are here considering a class of military officers who were such prior to the rebellion, and when in office were loyal and known as officers of the militia, and not that class who became military officers during the rebellion. This last clause comes under that class of disqualification which applies to participation in the rebellion as to civil officers disfranchised. The clause fairly includes all State officers—Governor, Lieutenant Governor, State Auditor, Treasurer, Secretary of State, and all official people who have exercised executive functions at the seat of Government.

I am not prepared to say that only these proper State officials come within the description, nor am I prepared, as to judicial officers of a State, to limit description to Judges of Court whose jurisdiction extends throughout the entire State. I must content myself by saying they are clearly within the meaning of the law. Municipal officers do not come within the provisions of the Act, and subordinate officers of a Legislature, who are not members, do not come within its provisions.

As to the county, township and precinct officers, he reserves the opinion whether all of them, or not all classes of them, come within the disqualification laws. All other executive or judicial officers, except county officers, come within the meaning of these laws. Persons who exercise special public duties rather in the nature of occasional employment than general and continuing official duty, do not come within the law, as Boards of Commissioners of Public Works, Directors of State Penitentiaries, State Directors for Banks or other corporations, special commissioners, etc., but all persons who, as executive or judicial officers in any State, who have not taken the oath to support the Constitution of the United States, are clearly disfranchished. All persons who during the rebellion acted in an official capacity, where the duties of office necessarily had relation to the support of the rebellion, such members of the rebel Confederacy, or such officials whose duties more especially appertained to the support of the rebel cause, come within the terms of exclusion.

Officers in rebel States who during the rebellion discharged official duties not incident to war, but in preservation of order and administration of law, are not to be considered as thereby engaging in rebellion. The interests of humanity require the performance of such duties, and they can never be considered as criminal.

Stanberry is satisfied that the language used in the Act as to participation in the rebellion, carries the idea of voluntary participation, and that Congress used, in this sense, the word "engaged" Some direct, overt act, done with intent to further the rebellion, is necessary to bring the party within the purview and meaning of the law. Merely disloyal sentiments or expressions are not sufficient. The person applying for registration is not required to clear himself of the taint of disloyalty. The meaning of Congress becomes yet more evident when we look at the last clause of the prescribed oath. He is required to swear he will faithfully support the Constitution and obey the laws of the United States, and will to the best of his ability encourage others to do so. This looks to the future, and not to the past, and the purpose is manifest to omit, as to the right to vote, the disqualification arising from past disloyalty; but in the text oath, as disqualification from holding office, mere acts of common humanity and charity cannot be considered as involving the party in participation in the rebellion. So, too, with forced contributions to rebel authorities, or compulsory payment of taxes in aid of rebel arms; but whenever an act is done voluntarily in aid of the rebel cause, it involves the person and works disqualification under the law. Voluntary contributions in furtherance of rebellion, or subscriptions to rebel loans, and organized contributions of food or clothing, or necessary supplies, except of a strictly sanitary character, are to be classed with acts which disqualify. The duties and powers of the Board of Registration are not adverted to. The administration of any other oath than the one provided in the Act would be extra judicial and without authority, and false swearing could not be assigned as perjury upon such unauthorized oath. The oath in the Act is the sole only test of the qualifications of the applicant. If he takes it the name must go on the register, and the Board cannot enter upon the inquiry whether he swore truly or falsely. At an election the duty of the Board is simply to receive the votes or registered persons and reject all others.

BACKGAMMON—A NOVEL PHASE OF DOMESTIC INFELICITY.—Nearly every phase of domestic difficulty, sooner or later, comes before the Police Court. The latest cause of conjugal unhappiness was brought to light yesterday morning, before Justice Barstuvant. George Bush and his wife reside on Bunker street, near Canal, and the husband was arraigned for beating his wife. It was not alleged that George's abuse proceeded from intoxication. On the contrary, he is a sober, industrious man. He has his caprices, however, and one of these is that after retiring to bed at night his wife must scratch his back for him! This is an indulgence which George cannot forego. He has been accustomed to having the operation performed ever since the first week of the honeymoon, and has latterly entertained the belief that it was specified in the marriage contract. Mrs. Bush has for a long time secretly regarded this requirement on the part (that is, the back) of her husband as very onerous, and has quite seriously protested against it. After a weary day of household duties, it seemed to her a repetition of her toiling over the washboard to devote a half hour every night in creating a rosy flush upon the spinal column of her exacting husband. It might be a pleasure to him, but it was certainly a selfish one, in which she had not a particle of sympathy. She resolved to free herself from this servitude, and to accomplish the desired result conceived an idea worthy of the feminine heart. She quietly secured a currycomb with small fine teeth, the vigorous use of which upon the epidermis of a horse or an elephant might produce pleasurable sensations, but in its application to the backs of human beings would naturally excite prejudice and profanity. The instrument she secretly placed convenient for use, and on Monday night, after the couple had retired to bed, the husband assumed his usual position, to receive his accustomed scratching. Quietly reaching out for the currycomb, Mrs. Bush, whose muscles had acquired peculiar strength from the oft repeated operations, "raked" the broad expanse of cuticle some two or three times back and forth in the most lively manner. Giving utterance to one tremendous yell, the astonished and infuriated husband kicked the wife some distance out of bed. With excited and lacerated back and feelings, and many an emphatic oath, he quickly followed the direction his wife had taken, and proceeded to administer a summary beating. For this she caused his arrest. In consideration of the harrowing provocation, Bush was fined $3, and advised to forego any domestic enjoyment which his wife could not share.

WEEVIL.—Ten of the grain merchants and shippers of San Francisco have joined in issuing the following to the grain growers of this coast:

Our advices from Europe report the existence of weevil in several cargoes of California wheat that have arrived out. Understanding as you do the destructive nature of this insect, it is hardly necessary to point out to you the serious peril to which the reputation of California wheat will be exposed in foreign markets should this evil be allowed to continue unchecked. We would therefore call upon you in the most earnest manner to take steps to eradicate the weevil, should any exist in your warehouse, or to prevent its appearance hereafter, and to do so immediately, so as to avoid damage to the coming crops.

Too much trouble cannot be taken in this matter; and while we do not pretend to advise authoritatively what steps should be taken to effect the end desired, we would suggest as a matter of common prudence, that all old grain—particularly barley—which is standing over from last season's crop should be removed from your main buildings and stored by itself, that your walls and floors, and particularly your bins, should be thoroughly washed down with boiling water; the cracks in the floors and sides scraped and filled with lime, and the whole interior of your building covered thoroughly with at least two coats of whitewash.

By adopting these or similar precautions and urging the same upon your neighbors, we believe much of the danger alluded to can be averted and the confidence that has been established in the good shipping qualities of California grain be maintained. To this end we invite your cordial co-operation.

The French papers speak with great mystery of a new cannon, which it is hinted is the invention of the Emperor, and is as much more terrible than every other weapon, as that ruler is more powerful than other monarchs. The trials of the new weapon were very secret, and no one knows how it is made, not even the soldiers: officers work it alone. It is represented to be of small calibre, made of copper, and composed of a system of metallic discs, and a tourniquet (of which the writer says he cannot give a description), and will fire twelve to fifteen shots a minute. This writer says the piece is really an application of the needle to artillery. Another says a French artillery officer is the inventor, that a large number of guns have already been made, and that a single discharge will knock the front out of a whole battalion of infantry at 1800 to 2000 yards, and that from forty to fifty rounds can be fired in a minute. As there are 320 of these guns now finished there are data enough to furnish the basis of a calculation showing how long it would take the French to destroy everybody else in the world.

AN INDICTMENT.—A craftsman who had drank a little too freely, fell from the raft and was drowning, when his brother seized him by the hair, but the current was so strong, and the brother's strength being nearly exhausted, he was about relinquishing his hold, when the drowning one raised his head above the water and sung out, "Hang on, Sam, hang on, I'll treat, I swear I will." His words were stimulating and the other saved him.

RECREATIONS OF A PHILOSOPHER.—Prof. Doremus once placed a linen handkerchief in the explosive condition of gun cotton, and threw it into the wash. Bridget washed, dried and sprinkled it ready for ironing, without a suspicion of its character. The moment she placed the hot iron upon it, the handkerchief vanished into thin air, nearly frightened the poor girl out of her senses. Had this occurred an age ago, the Professor would have passed for a "limb of Satan."

It is said that there are in Maine 14,000,000 acres of unbroken forest, of which 5,000,000 is covered with hemlock timber. Somebody estimates that this latter area would yield 100,000,000 cords of hemlock bark, of which the extract for tanning purposes would be worth in the market, $1,000,000.

The Caledonian Mercury, which claimed to be the oldest newspaper in Great Britian, and which, for some months past, has been issued in the form of an evening half penny paper, has just died, after an existence (since 1662,) or more than two centuries.

Shingled roofs soon acquire a furze, which operating as a sort of dam in wet weather, retains the water and causes the shingles to rot early, and when dry it is like tinder, on which a spark falling from the chimney will suddenly set the roof on fire. To guard against both these liabilities, take an opportunity just before a rain, to sprinkle a coating of air-slaked lime all over the surface of the roof. The lime will remove the furze making the surface clean and smooth, and the lime water penetrating the shingles will preserve the wood for many years if the practice is occasionally renewed.

An ingenious and philanthropic person at Hartford, Connecticut, has invented a contrivance to burn water, and the flame, which is of wonderful intensity, can be produced in three minutes, governed by a thumb screw, and be applied to any purpose as easily as any fire.

According to a recent geological survey, it is ascertained that Illinois has a coal area of more than 18,000 acres, containing three strata of coal, altogether sixteen and a half feet thick, and superior to English or Pennsylvania coal for smelting purposes.

Connecticut is reducing her debt nearly half a million a year.

CHOLERA.

MR. PERRY DAVIS:—The benefit I have received from the use of your invaluable remedy, the Pain Killer, induces me to pen a word in its praise. Experience has convinced me that for Headache, Indigestion, Pain in the Stomach, or any other part of the system, severe Chills, Weariness, common Colds, Hoarseness, CHOLERA, CHOLERA MORBUS, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Toothache, &c., THERE IS NOTHING SO GOOD AS THE PAIN KILLER. I have this hour recovered from a severe attack of the Sick Headache, by using two teaspoonfuls, taken at thirty minutes interval, in a wine glass full of hot water. I am confident, through the blessing of God, it saved me from the cholera in the summer of 1849. Travelling and heat, dust, toil, change of diet, and constant exposure to an infected atmosphere, my system was daily predisposed to dysentery attacks, accompanied with pain, for which the Pain Killer was a sovereign remedy, one teaspoonful curing the worse case in an hour, or at the most, half a day. I have heard of many cases of Dysentery being cured by its use. Put in the teeth, it will stop the toothache. Gratitude, and a desire for its general use, has drawn from me this unsolicited testimonial in its favor.

D. T. TAYLOR, Jr., Minister of the Gospel.
